

ENGLISH (TECHNICAL AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION) - MASTER OF ARTS (ONLINE)

Students electing this concentration take core courses in the theory, praxis, and application of technical and professional communication. All courses are offered online.

Students conclude their program by composing a portfolio of work completed in the program and by passing an oral examination.

Prefix	Title	Credits
Required Coursework
ENGL 502	Critical Conversations in Technical and Professional Communication	3
ENGL 597	Internship in Technical and Professional Communication <sup>5</sup>	3
ENGL 585	Advanced Writing Workshop: RPC Capstone	3
Technical and Professional Communication Core
Select six courses from the following		18
ENGL 478	Document Design
ENGL 503	Web Design and Development
ENGL 504	User Experience and Assistance
ENGL 512	Graduate Study in Writing in the Workplace
ENGL 531	Technical Editing
ENGL 543	Multimedia Theory and Production
ENGL 560	Proposal and Grant Writing
ENGL 597	Internship in Technical and Professional Communication
CSCI 4510	C++ Programming
CSCI 4520	Python Programming I
CSCI 4525	Python Programming II
Rhetoric Core
Select three courses from the following		9
ENGL 507	Special Topics in Rhetoric and Technical and Professional Communication
ENGL 518	History of Rhetoric
ENGL 519	Graduate Study in Modern Rhetorical Theory
ENGL 549	Graduate Study in Writing
ENGL 550	Graduate Study in Literacy
ENGL 568	Rhetoric and Cultural Studies
ENGL 578	Topics in Rhetoric and Technology
ENGL 590	Master's Seminar in Rhetoric
With advisor approval, students may substitute up to 9 credits of courses in their area of specialization, within and beyond the English Department, for any of the Core courses in TPC or Rhetoric
Total Credits		36