

COLLEGE OF HEALTH, EDUCATION AND SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION

Accreditation

The programs offered by HEST provide undergraduate students with a broad general education with an emphasis on professional preparation in various disciplines. These programs are nationally accredited, while some require approval by the State of New Mexico. These programs include:

Athletic Training: The Athletic Training Degree in the Department of Kinesiology is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training (CAATE).

Communication Disorders: The master's program in Speech-Language Pathology is accredited by the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (CAA - ASHA).

Counseling and Educational Psychology: The Master of Arts (MA) in Clinical Mental Health Counseling is accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP); the Specialist in Education (Ed.S.) in School Psychology is accredited by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP), and the doctoral (Ph.D.) programs in Counseling Psychology and School Psychology are both accredited by the American Psychological Association (APA). The post-doctoral program in Clinical Psychopharmacology holds APA designation.

Nursing: The baccalaureate degree program in nursing, master's degree program in nursing, Doctor of Nursing Practice program, and post-graduate APRN certificates at New Mexico State University are accredited by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, 655 K Street NW, Suite 750, Washington, DC 20001, 202-887-6791. The baccalaureate degree program in nursing has full approval from the New Mexico Board of Nursing.

Public Health: The Bachelor of Public Health and Master of Public Health degree programs in the Department of Public Health Sciences are accredited by the Council on Education for Public Health (CEPH).

Social Work: The baccalaureate and master's degree programs in the School of Social Work are accredited by the Council on Social Work Education (CSWE).

Teacher Preparation: The university's teacher preparation program, which involves several colleges and is directed by the College of Health, Education, and Social Transformation, was re-accredited in 2018 by the Council for the Accreditation of Education Preparation Programs (CAEP). The undergraduate and graduate programs that prepare individuals for licensure to work in public and private schools in New Mexico have been approved by the New Mexico State Public Education Department.
